Composite Description: The investment objective of the Short Term Income Composite is to seek current income while preserving capital and liquidity by investing in a diversified portfolio of investment grade fixed income securities, with portfolio duration characteristics benchmarked to the BofA Merrill Lynch U.S. 3-6 Month Treasury Index. Portfolio dollar-weighted average maturity is normally expected to be less than 1 year, but this may vary in response to market conditions. The Short-Term Income Fixed Income Composite was created on September 30, 2016 with a composite inception date of March 31, 2014.

Benchmark: The benchmark for the composite is the ICE BofAML 3-6 Month Treasury Index. The ICE BofAML 3-6 Month Treasury Index measures the performance of Treasury bills with time to maturity of no less than 3 and no more than 6 months.

Minimum Account Size: All discretionary accounts in excess of $25 million have been included in the composite.

Calculation of Results: Accounts are valued using trade date accounting and are denominated in U.S. dollars. Performance results reflect the reinvestment of interest, dividends, and realized capital gains and include cash, cash equivalents, convertible securities, and preferred securities, if applicable. Dividends and interest are recorded on an accrual basis and are gross of all applicable foreign withholding taxes, if any.

Performance results are presented on a gross and net basis and include the reinvestment of all income. The net results reflect the deduction of 0.15%, representing the maximum advisory fees charged to client accounts in the Short Term Income Composite. The actual fees paid by a client may vary based on assets under management and other factors. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

Dispersion: The dispersion of annual return is measured by the standard deviation across asset-weighted portfolio returns represented within the composite for a full year. Prior to 2007, the dispersion of annual return was calculated across equal-weighted portfolio returns. For periods during which five or fewer accounts were included in the composite for a full year, standard deviation is not disclosed because it is not considered meaningful.

Fee Schedule: The management fee schedule is as follows: 0.15% on all assets. The actual fees paid by a client may vary based on assets under management and other factors.
